Event of the Year

The center of between-class activities on the OCE campus this past year has been Maple Hall. Al Petersdorf, believing that a student union on campus was needed for the students, began activities; Dr. Gunn asked the State Board of Higher Education for funds with which to complete the old Rec Hall, since it was not being used for any special activity; and funds were granted and committees began functioning to bring the project into reality.

Mrs. Pearl B. Heath

Mrs. Heath designed the fireplace and bar and furniture and equipment for the bar was purchased. After all of the decorating and installations had been completed, the hall was dedicated on October 22, 1948.

The snack bar committee, consisting of Miss Seavey, Miss Carter, Mrs. Heath, Wally Agee, Fern Huntzinger, George Priebe, and Hilda Fox, meet to discuss any improvements and changes needed. These suggestions are presented to the Student Council who gives the final decision.

Paid student help is responsible for opening, closing, and cleaning Maple Hall. Janice Sweet and Suzy Emmons have been bookkeepers for the past year. Georgia Priebe and Wally Agee have been student business managers. Miss Carter has been the faculty business manager.

We, the present students, will in years to come always remember Maple Hall. We wish it success in all it may endeavor to do for the students of OCE.

Dedication

To Joseph Frederick Santee, Ph.D., we dedicate this 1949 GROVE. His learning, his dignity combined with his rare sense of humor, and his love of teaching make him the symbol of the master teacher to thousands of students.

"Who is the master Teacher? He
Who from despair and fear sets free
The restless, sullen soul of youth
To range the harsh terrain of truth,
And from the blind abyss of folly,
The blackest pits of melancholy
To climb, to fall, to cling, to grope
Up the grim Everest of hope
Until above himself he stands,
A new strength in his bleeding hands,
And knows that by his faith he won
The shining summits of the sun."

Awards

1949 Julia McCulloch Smith Award Winner

Each year a committee of faculty members selects a senior woman to whom they award the Julia McCulloch Smith Award. The qualifications for this award are graciousness, unselfish leadership, and the love of knowledge. This year, the twenty-five dollar award has been given to Louise Petersdorf.

1949 Phi Beta Kappa Award Winner

Each year since 1942, an outstanding freshman student in scholarship receives an award from the Central Willamette Valley Association of Phi Beta Kappa. This year, the faculty committee has selected Joan Metcalf for this honor.

Who's Who

OCE became a member of Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges in 1945-46. This is an annual publication composed of outstanding students from various colleges in the United States.

These students are nominated by a committee appointed by the president of the respective colleges, and the number of nominees is based upon the registration of the institution. The students chosen for Who's Who must be juniors or seniors, must show outstanding qualities in scholarship, leadership, and character, must participate in extra-curricular activities, and must give promise of a future usefulness to business and society.

This year OCE is proud to add to the Who's Who list eight very competent and deserving students. The nominees are Wallace Agee, Marleau Harris, W. Bruce Hamilton, Ray Smith, Jane Yant Jensen, Elinor Winther, Vivian Hannah Bullock and Carmen Westinhouse Yeager.

Fellow students of OCE congratulate the 1948-49 nominees for Who's Who and wish them continued success.

ADMINISTRATION

President Henry M. Gunn

The teaching profession is assuming growing importance in the world of today. The shrinking world, the interdependence of nations, combined with the fragility of human relations, make education more and more important in the realm of world affairs. The primary purpose of your years spent at the Oregon College of Education has been to train for the important task of trying to build a better world through teaching boys and girls the basic understandings of life. But in addition to this very important task, I hope you have made lasting friendships with your fellow students and with faculty members. I hope the years that you have spent at the Oregon College of Education will create a memory which you will cherish through the years.

H. M. GUNN

President

Director of Training Schools

Dr. Louis Kaplan, as Director of Training Schools and Head of the Department of Education and Psychology, assumes responsibility for a big job. To do this work, and still maintain a smile, takes the perseverance and good nature which Dr. Kaplan continues to exhibit. In commenting on the achievements of the past year, he was particularly enthusiastic about the modernization of the Monmouth Training School:

"One of the major campus events of this year was the occupancy of the new Campus Elementary School. With this modernization of physical facilities has come a modernization of the program of teacher education. We are now abreast of the national trends in teacher education. In a few years this institution will attain national recognition, and its graduates will rate among the best teachers in the country."

Louis Kaplan

Faculty

Out-of-the-way corners are strictly out with the OCE faculty. Besides doing a commendable job of teaching in the various departments, each member is always ready to guide and assist students. The only thing that takes the faculty to those out-of-the-way corners is a student needing help.

Because each member of the faculty is an able personnel worker, students are able to go to experienced people with wide and varied interests and education when they want to discuss problems or plans.

The system of student-chosen advisers has proved very successful this past year. Each member of the faculty acts as adviser to several students.

Thanks to our OCE faculty for all of their consideration and help.

Dean of Women

A very busy member of the OCE faculty during the past school year has been Miss Joan Seavey, Dean of Women. Not only busy with the responsibilities of Dean, Miss Seavey has secured busses for concerts and beach trips, procured assembly and chapel speakers, and has performed other services for the students. She has continued to have a keen interest in the students and the activities of the campus.

Dean of Men

A familiar person to all OCE students, Dean Delmar Dewey has served OCE students for several years. Continually interested in the welfare of the students, he has quietly given assistance to many individuals and student groups. All Education students have met Dean Dewey in Administration 208 for General Psychology I, II, and III.

Class of , 49

Baccalaureate and Commencement services climax four years of hard work and play for the class of '49. Composed largely of veterans, this class leaves behind it a record which will be hard for future seniors to uphold. Each member of this class has done his share to make O. C. E. an outstanding college. All club activities have been influenced through the membership of senior classmen, and athletics have drawn heavily from this group for its teams.

The main activity carried on this year by the seniors has been the study and revision of the Senior Class Constitution. This work was carried on under the leadership of Chairman Ray Smith. Much help was also given by Mrs. Pearl B. Heath, Senior Class Adviser.

In the years to come, we shall hear more about the class of '49 as they contribute their time and efforts to better the teaching profession. O. C. E. will be proud to be called Alma Mater by this graduating group of men and women.

Having gained the third rung of the ladder, the one-time Sophomores ably assumed the role of Juniors.

The fall term found this class sponsoring a most successful hayride party. Spring term found them busily engrossed in preparation for the Junior Prom held on May 21. This venture too was a success, highlighted by romantic music, beautiful gowns, and the thrill of spring.

Many of the juniors will receive teaching certificates this spring and will assume teaching positions for next year. Some will stay on to receive the coveted degree. Their interest and enthusiasm will carry them far on whichever road they may take.

The sophomore class having passed the era of lids and initiation assumed the duties of establishing the ritual for the frosh to follow. With much consideration and thought they initiated several unique ideas.

The class not only set the initiation pattern, but also acted as genial hosts for the whole orientation week and sponsored a welcome dance. The theme of this dance was Harvest Moon, and it served as an excellent mixer for old and new students.

Acting in spring term as sponsors of an enjoyable roller skating party, the class again received more recognition.

With the continued enthusiasm they possess and the friendly attitude that exists, they are sure to attain their desired goal.

Class of , 52

The class of 1952 has lived up to the good name they made for themselves during Freshman Week. They underwent the trials and tribulations with notable enthusiasm; even the four A.M. rising left them full of vim. They weren't even dismayed when their first hard-built bonfire was sabotaged during Homecoming; they just set to work and built another one.

The class sponsored a freshman class party during the fall term and assisted with other activities throughout the year. They are now planning the initiation for next year's freshman group.

Probably the greatest attribute the class possess is its ability to readily adjust itself to new surroundings. The group has set an example for the whole school to follow in matters of school spirit. We will no doubt see and hear more of this class in the years to come.

A. S. B. President's Letter

WARREN BRUCE HAMILTON
A.S.B. President

The past year has seen the most successful activity program at O. C. E. since the end of World War II. The student government, working with a constitution which was foreign to it, quickly adjusted itself and fostered a program which, from all indications, was pleasing to the majority of students on the campus.

The college freshmen just out of high school, the war veterans starting down the home stretch toward their degrees or certificates, and the many transfers from other schools have all contributed their fair share toward making O.C.E. one of the friendliest, if not the friendliest, schools in this section of the country.

However, not content to be just friendly and congenial, these people have also been ambitious. There has been a growing interest on the part of the students to secure recognition for their school. Increased interest in all school activities points to just one thing—school pride. But school is useless until it asserts itself, until it motivates those who have been infected by it to let people know that they are proud of their school. Some of the best things which have happened to O.C.E. in the last year have been the students' growing pride in the school and their desire to publicize the school.

Right now our school is at the stage of development where its future depends upon the quality of each individual student. By helping to mold the reputation of our school, each one of us is also molding our own reputation. The benefits that each of us derives from our school are in direct proportion to the contributions which we make. It is with this thought in mind that I wish all of you and O.C.E. the greatest success in the coming years.

B. HAMILTON

M. HARRIS
ASOB. Vice President

The Associated Students of Oregon College of Education have operated this year under a new constitution. This revision of the constitution provides for two commissions: the social and educational, and the athletic commission, certain members of each group being elected by the general student body while others are elected by the various organizations they represent.

The effects of this new type of student government have been numerous and far reaching, with each student enjoying many of the activities sponsored by the ASOCE.

The ASOCE has been responsible for the assemblies, for Homecomings, and Dads' Mothers' and Senior weekends, all of which constituted much work and preparation. Much credit and praise is due this group who very competently guided and directed the student activities of the campus. W. Bruce Hamilton acted in the capacity of president; Marleau Harris, first-vice-president; Fern Huntzinger, second vice-president; Betty Dooley, secretary; and Jim Beach, financial secretary of the executive council of ASOCE.

The athletic council was composed of Marleau Harris, president; Helen Mattison, W.A.A. representative; Bill Olund, yell king; Shirlie McCarton, yell queen; and Ted Shorack, publicity commissioner. Mr. Robert Knox and Miss Ruth Lautenback act as faculty advisers for this council.

The social and educational commission was composed of the following: Fern Huntzinger, president; Hilda Fox, social commissioner; Elinor Winther, assembly commissioner; Bill Floyd, publicity commissioner; and Harry Peters, club commissioner. The faculty advisers for this council are Miss Joan Seavey and Mr. Ellis Stebbins.

Lamron Staff

Standing Delorah Mallatt, Nan Mariott, Mary Fake, Donna Miller

A very conscientious Lamron staff has succeeded in giving the student body of OCE a superb paper for the school year 1948-49. Edited Fall term by Les McKim the paper boasted two editors: Winter term, Keith Clark and Leola Daniels. The Lamron has covered all campus news in a commendable manner.

Assisting the editors were exceptionally capable business and reporting staffs. Sports editors were Barney Stadius and Byron Hindman. Other editors included Don Garber, Roland Clark, Margaret Kaady, Hilda Fox, and Tom Jones.

The business staff consisting of Jean Darby, Clayton Anderson, Rosemary Campbell, and Ruth Frick, has done its task well.

Reporters who gave their time to hunt news were Henrietta Johnson, Mary Oberg, Nan Mariott, Mary Fake, Evelyn Marsh, Margaret Mills, Gil Christian, Marv Turner, and Donna Miller.

Dr. Santee was the adviser for this "must have" campus publication.

The 1948-49 debate team has ended a very impressive, active, and satisfying year of competition. Many were the inter-squad and inter-school practice debates which prepared the team for the three annual tournaments participated in this year. These tournaments were held at Linfield College, McMinnville, Oregon; College of Puget Sound, Tacoma, Washington; and University of Montana, Missoula, Montana.

The goal of this year's team was to further the name of OCE among other colleges. In this, they succeeded very well.

GROVE STAFF MESSAGE

College days are among the most treasured days of our life. The activities in which we participate, the friends we make, and the things which we learn are well worth remembering. Within this book, the Grove Staff has attempted to record the outstanding events of the 1948-49 school year on the O.C.E. Campus. We hope, as the years slip by, that you will stop now and then to reminisce and to give a thought to the friends which you made at O.C.E.

To the students and faculty members who helped to make this yearbook possible, we extend our sincere thanks for a job well done.

The men's honorary fraternity, Theta Delta Phi, is composed of men who have proved their ability as students on the O.C.E. Campus. Requirements for entrance into the fraternity are a grade point of 3.5 for one term or a 3.0 for two successive terms. Each term a banquet is given by the old members for the new. This year's activities consisted of two banquets, a spring-term picnic, and the sending of delegates to the district convention at La Grande.

The three-act comedy, Dear Ruth, was the fall term curtain raiser for the Crimson 'O' players. Besides this successful production, a series of three one-act plays were presented at Christmas to bring the term's activities to a close.

Climaxing the club's winter term was the international hilarity hit, Charley's Aunt, which was met with equal applause on each of the two successive nights it was presented at O.C.E. The casts later successfully presented the play to several off-campus organizations in other cities.

Several members of Crimson 'O' have been initiated into the Kappa Mu cast of Alpha Psi Omega, the National Dramatic Honorary Fraternity.

Dear Ruth

The stage play, Dear Ruth, a rollicking comedy, was a major success when it was performed by the members of the Crimson 'O' during fall term. The play takes place during the last war, and is the story of the dilemma which results when sixteen-year-old Miriam writes letters and poems to the boys in the armed forces, using her sister's name and pictures to keep up their moral. The play was the first three-act play to be played two successive nights to a packed house.

Charley's Aunt

Charley's Aunt was the winter term dramatic success presented by Crimson 'O.' This comedy was enthusiastically received by audiences wherever it was presented. During the winter term it played two successive nights at O.C.E., one night at Middle Grove, and one night at Salem. Another presentation was given spring term before an audience of visiting high school seniors who were on the campus for senior day.

The setting for Charley's Aunt was in an apartment on the Oxford Campus, and the real comedy began when one student impersonated Charley's wealthy aunt from Brazil. The plot became more involved until Charley's aunt actually arrived.

We shall long remember Charley's Aunt as one of the outstanding performances given at O.C.E.

Horizon Club

First Row: Charleen Kirchem (president), Nelda Sitz, Joanna Clemenson (reporter), Peggy Slater, Mary Watkins. Second Row: Wilma Spacek (vice president), Marion Peschek (secretary-treasurer), Janell Devine, Harriet Jenkins

The Horizon Club is a branch of the Camp Fire Girls Organization for college girls. Locet Horizon Club of O.C.E. is unique in that it is one of two of its kind in junior colleges in this country. With the friendly help of Miss Lautenbach, faculty adviser, Camp Fire sold Christmas cards, helped with the annual Skit Night, and participated in other projects. Two of the members proved their ability by leading the Camp Fire and Blue Bird groups of Monmouth.

The purpose of Camp Fire on the O.C.E. campus is to instruct the future teachers of Oregon in the fundamentals of Camp Fire leadership.

Fourth Row: Betty Jo Keithley, Lorraine Graybill, Margaret Sears, Betty Rose, Luella Rowlette, Florence Fuller. Fifth Row: Miss Funk, Wilma Spacek, Josephine Miller (reporter), Doris Anicker, Marion Peschek

Through Bible studies, prayer meetings and conferences, the O.C.E. Christian Fellowship, a branch of the National I.V.C.F., carries out its two-fold purpose of presenting Jesus Christ as Son of God and personal Saviour and providing fellowship for Christian students.

Besides the spring conference at Twin Rocks, the highlight of the year was the co-sponsorship with Willamette University of state-wide Oregon conference in December with Paul Beckwith, National Staff Member, as speaker. Other activities included a banquet, a forum on doctrinal statements, and the conduction of several church services.

Wesley Fellowship

Wesley Fellowship, a religious discussion group sponsored by the Methodist Church, was started on campus this year. Besides discussion meetings twice a month, the group has frequent social gatherings. This year's officers include Linda Girod, chairman; and Jean Bevens, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Anton Postl and Mr. Everett Van Maaen are the advisers, and Reverend Clark S. Enz of Dallas is the Director.

Alpha Psi Omega

Kappa Mu Chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, National Dramatic Honorary Fraternity, was established at O.C.E. in 1947 under the auspices of Mr. George Harding, the faculty advisor.

The organization was conceived as a way of honoring deserving students participating in dramatics. Members are considered for this organization by the number of points received, this system being set up by the National Organization. Points are given for all activities connected with drama, for high quality work, and for attitude and cooperation during rehearsal as well as during production.

On-campus members include Jack Cohoon, Lorna Jager, Tom Putman, Judy Wilcox, and John Ulrwich.

Choir

One of the most outstanding groups on the campus is the O.C.E. Choir. Under the direction of Mrs. Florence Hutchinson, the choir presented a Candlelight Christmas Service on the last Sunday of fall term, gave a concert of sacred and secular music during winter term, and sang at Baccalaureate and Commencement services at the end of spring term.

Band

The band, under the direction of Mr. Charles Stowell, has made remarkable progress this year in spite of conflicts with classes and other extra curricular activities. The band has added zest to football games, rally assemblies, and other campus activities.

Alumni Association

Welcome always to make the OCE Campus a home away from home are the alums. All of the graduates of the college, the potential members of the OCE Alumni Association, were well represented at the successful Homecoming under the co-chairmanship of Barbara Brose and Bruce Hamilton.

Traditionally, Homecoming is one of the three big activities for the alumni, the other two being the annual Oregon Education Association "Reunion Luncheon" held in Portland, and the "Senior Luncheon" planned each year for the graduating seniors. At the senior luncheon the faculty branch of the Alumni Association serve as host. Additional functions are conducted by local chapters.

Graduates become active members by payment of one dollar yearly assessment and are then able to vote and receive the quarterly publication—OCEAN—Oregon College of Education Alumni News.

Homecoming

Bruce Hamilton — Barbara Brose

Homecoming weekend opened when many alums poured into Monmouth, Friday, October 22. Registration in the new student union was aided by the able Staff and Key members.

The entire campus was colored with Homecoming decorations. Arnold Arms won first place for their entry which depicted old lady wolf giving the dirty "SOCS" a good tubbing.

On Friday evening the students and alums flocked into the stadium to hear S.O.C.E. defeated 13-6. Even though the spectators could really only hear the game because of the dense fog, the spirit still remained, aided by the sprightly Rally Squad and Pep Club.

The traditional burning of the frosh bonfire took place before the game and the Victory Dance was held afterwards in Maple Hall.

On the second day of Homecoming, a luncheon was given for the "alums" in the dining room of Jessica Todd Hall. Old friends had a chance to meet and discuss old times. The luncheon was followed by a talent show in Campbell Hall Auditorium.

Saturday night, amid Blue Champagne, couples flocked into the Physical Education Building to dance to the strains of Kurt Kenion and his band.

Committees for the weekend were headed by Barbara Brose and Bruce Hamilton. Working with them were Chris May, George Thomas, Corky Wilson, Jerry Leabo, and Barbara Gates.

Senior Day

On April 23, OCE was host to visiting seniors from all parts of the Willamette Valley. An activity filled Saturday gave the guests a taste of college life complete with a jam-packed schedule of athletic and social events.

A horde of over 150 seniors gathered on the campus about 9:30 Saturday morning for registration, and the activities continued at a rapid pace for the rest of the day and through the Sunday morning breakfast. Some of the more important events were as follows: a campus tour, exhibition debate, picnic in the grove, talent show, baseball game, square dancing, dinner at Todd Hall, Choir concert, a special production of Charlie's Aunt, a dance in Maple Hall, pajama parties in all the dormitories, and finally breakfast in Todd Hall.

Thelma Serbousek and Merlin Marsh acted as general chairmen for the event. They were assisted by the entire Promotion Committee and many other willing workers.

Mothers' and Dads' Weekend

Mothers' and Dads' weekends were passed over in a classical family style. The May whirl for the Moms, with its modern dance review, spring term talent show, and teas, was enough to make our mothers recuperate for two weeks when again on the home front.

Royal entertainment was also in order for the fathers. Under the direction of George Jensen, Dad's Weekend was one of the outstanding events of the year. Two fast-moving basketball games with S.O.C.E., a student talent show, and an informal dinner at Todd Hall provided the dads with a memorable weekend.

CURRICULUM

Supervised Teaching

For many students, supervised teaching is the climax of their work at O.C.E. Many look forward to this work with a quaking heart, only to find that it isn't as onerous as they anticipated. As indicated above, supervised teaching has its lighter moments. Pictured are student teachers Walter Hamer and Evelyn Hilfiker and their pupils completing preparations for an Easter party.

Arts - Crafts

Whether it's oil painting, crafts, or general art, students become more skilled under the guidance of Miss Sylvia Claggett and Mrs. Pearl B. Heath.

Music

"MUSIC HATH CHARMS," and under the direction of Mrs. Florence Hutchinson and the other members of the music Department, future teachers gain a knowledge of music fundamentals and musical instruments that can be used in the classroom.

Biology - Chemistry

CHEMISTRY

Working in a well-equipped laboratory, lower division students have an opportunity to experiment and to learn at first hand the wonders of chemistry.

BIOLOGY

Under the supervision of Mr. Kent Farley, "micro-gazing" opens the door to new worlds for biology students.

Social Sciences - Science

History

Be it ancient or recent, history broadens the background of the college student. Learning the past helps to build a better future.

Geography

The wonders of the world are many and varied, but through the medium of geography, Mr. Noxon brings them into the classroom for discussion and observation by the students.

Science

A valuable member of the Science Department is Mr. Matthew Thompson. Whether its mathematics or astronomy, Mr. Thompson's classes will acquaint students with the wonderful world of science.

GWEN STILWELL
President

Under the able guidance of Gwen Stilwell, activities were many and varied this year at Todd Hall. The first big event was Homecoming Weekend, celebrated by the erection of a football field in our front yard. Holiday time found us busy with a formal candlelight Thanksgiving Dinner, caroling followed by a Christmas Fireside, and the traditional Yule-Log Ceremony. Every Thursday during fall term we entertained faculty guests, and enjoyed meeting them here. In February we entertained our fathers at Dads' Weekend, and concluded the busy time with a banquet in our dining room. In March came Open-House, with a tour of the rooms, dancing, and entertainment. Spring activities included several firesides, a dorm picnic, and Mothers' Weekend.

Mrs. Lorna Jessup and Mrs. Leone Miller have been our housemothers this year.

West House

Activities took another stride forward at West House this year with Remmel Nivens presiding over the Freshman class, Dick Ferguson playing on Bill McArthur's football machine, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Keithley acting as Head Residents, and George Teneyck taking active part in the dramatic production of Charley's Aunt. The house also made a good record in football and basketball intramurals.

A very "stuck-up" taffy pull, under the direction of Chris May, topped the social calendar.

Arnold Arms

The noble Knights of Arnold Arms took social presidency over all other campus living organizations this year by sponsoring two dances, a Hobo Dance and a Sport Dance, and the pre-Christmas presentation of Handel's The Messiah by means of the phonograph. Their Homecoming decorations won top honors in the all campus sign contest. Bill Olund, fall term house president, made a grand showing with his work on the Rally squad.

Veterans' Village

Nestled on the outskirts of the Oregon College of Education campus, Veterans' Village has been the home of some forty veteran students and their families during the past school year. Many of the students have resided there since the fall term of 1946 when the first twenty-four housing units were completed. Since that time, twenty more units have been added, bringing the total to forty-four.

The Village has been well represented in athletics, in student functions, and on the honor roll. The varsity teams have been strengthened through such representatives as Bob McKee, Gale Davis, Marleau Harris, and Gene Holweger. Much activity has been carried on in intramural sports by teams organized from the ranks of the Village, and each season finds these teams well up the ladder of winners.

Next year, many familiar faces will be missing from Vets' Village, for the class of '49 contains many veterans. For those who are leaving, the Village and O.C.E. will long be remembered.

ROBIN LEE
most valuable player

Touchdown play at Vanport

Football

The Oregon College of Education Wolves rolled through their most successful season in more than a decade. They attained the championship of the state teachers' colleges by defeating both SOCE and EOCE.

Under the able mentorship of Bill McArthur, with assistance from John Chamberlain as line coach, the OCE squad started the season fast with a 38 to 0 win over Clark J.C. They followed this game with a hard fought 13-12 victory over St. Martin's.

The third game was the Wolves' first defeat. They dropped a heartbreaking contest to Chico State College 20-7.

The Wolves resumed their winning ways with victories over Oregon Vocational School 19-6 and Pacific College 36-6.

For the first time since 1937, the Wolves defeated the S.O.C.E. Red Raiders. Before a large crowd, on a foggy field that obscured most of the game, the Wolves dropped the Raiders 13-6.

In their climax game, O.C.E. walloped Eastern Oregon 40-14 at LaGrande. But when they journeyed to Portland, they met an inspired Vanport team and were forced to settle for a 13-13 tie.

Because of injuries and a lack of replacements, the Wolves lost their two remaining games to Humboldt State 25-0, and Linfield 6-0.

At the close of the season, Don Ruecker was elected honorary captain and Robin Lee was chosen most valuable player. Robin was also nominated by the local coaches for a Little All American half-back position.

Through the wealth of new material and returning lettermen, the O.C.E. fans are looking forward to an even better team next season.

Coach Bob Knox's hoopsters enjoyed a fair season during the 48-49 campaign. The high scoring wolf quintet, which averaged 63.4 points each game, won eleven games and lost sixteen. This however did not present a true picture of the team's abilities. Handicapped by a marked lack of height, the Wolves succeeded in out-scoring the opposition in total points 1712 to 1692.

The squad was composed mostly of returning lettermen with two transfers, one freshman, and two men up from last year's J.V. squad.

The most exciting game of the season was against Seattle Pacific College. The team and fans both went wild as the Wolves defeated the Falcons 99-84, the highest scores to be recorded by an O.C.E. team.

The scoring this season was led by Jess Palmer, center, with 342 points. Following his lead were Harrel Smith with 259, and Marv Hiebert, with 231 points. Other high scorers were Claude Buckley with 215 points, Bob McKee with 215 points, and Gene Holweger with 192 points.

1948 Baseball Team

The 1948 Baseball squad completed an average season; the fighting nine won about fifty per cent of their games.

Although not always on the winning end of the scoring column, the team was always fighting. This is evidenced by the run totals. O.C.E. scored seventy-eight runs during the season, and the opposition scored only eighty runs.

Coach Knox is looking forward to a more successful season next year. He will not lose any of his players through graduation, and the added experience should be the needed factor for a winning ball club.

1948 Track and Field

Track returned to O.C.E. in 1948 for the first time since 1942. Coach Bill McArthur, former Santa Barbara track great, was confronted with the problem of how to get the most out of a few men. Although the Wolves did not win any meets, they always made a good showing.

The squad was made up of Wade Bothwell and Don Gregg in the sprints, Scott Thompson in the 440, Tom Jones in the mile and the 880, and Sylvan Mullin in the broad jump. Also picking up points in the field events were Everett Slocum, Don Leavitt, Don Gregg, Sam Ramey, Herbert Kirby, and George Redden.

Coach McArthur lettered only four men: Bothwell, Jones, Mullin, and Manager Collins.

Women's athletics have been well represented on the O.C.E. Campus during the past year, and the girls' basketball team has done its share to uphold the prestige of the school in the eyes of near-by colleges.

Composed of outstanding players of the Women's Athletic Association, the team defeated all opponents to establish a perfect record for the 1949 season. Coached by Miss Ruth Lautenbach, the girls displayed good sportsmanship as well as ability on the court. The varsity team was composed of Helen Mattison, forward; Elizabeth Vincent, forward; Peggy Slater, forward; Joyce Martin, guard; Nola Richter, guard; and Wilma Spacek, guard.

The outstanding game of the season was played on the local court against Willamette University. A tense audience watched the score change hands several times before O.C.E. secured the game 26-24 in the final moments.

Intramural Sports

Much credit must go to the Intramural Sports Commissioner, Lyle Winters, for the outstanding program of men's intramural sports which was under his supervision during the past school year. It has been an OCE tradition for housing groups to defend their honor by entering a team in the intramural league to play seasonal sports. The team that wins the championship in each sport is awarded a trophy which is given to them during the award assembly at the end of the year.

Fall term found six enthusiastic teams entered in the touch-football league. Although each team did its best, the real struggle for the trophy was between Arnold Arms and Claude Buckley's Ramblers. The Ramblers out-played the Arnold Arms team in the final tilt to secure the championship and the cup.

Basketball thrills were plentiful as ten teams struggled for supremacy on the maple court. All of the larger housing groups were represented by a team, and Vets' Village entered three teams in the league. Ramey's Ramblers won the trophy by defeating all the teams in the league.

From the various house teams, ten men were chosen to form an All Star team. Those chosen were as follows: Roger Dasch, Bill Hill, Ted Martin, Alan Olson, Walter Baglein, Herb Kirby, Bill Floyd, Ralph Steurdevant, Tom Jones, and George Redden. This team displayed considerable talent as it downed the J.V. squad, several town teams, and an Oregon State intramural squad one out of two games.

Spring term and good weather brought the players outside to continue their battles on the diamond. Softball at its best was displayed as the teams struggled for top honors. Each team put forth its best efforts, but the Refugees, bowing only to one team during the season, were crowned champions of the diamond. Leo Hocker, pitcher for the Refugees, was named as the outstanding player of the season. When the season ended, the final records were as follows:
